

The Binary Options Trading Guide

Whether you are trading binary options for the first time or you have some experience in the market this binary options guide will simply explain how I have achieved profits.

2013 has been a very good year for me. I started to earn steady gains in binary trading, I started this website and I had my first child (a beautiful girl). Here is the break down of what I will be covering in the binary guide.

- My monthly profit break down using the methods explained in this guide.
- Choosing the right binary options broker.
- Starting with a binary options signal provider/software to learn and start gaining profits.

This guide is very simple, I use one broker and one software to achieve my profits. Whenever I get involved in any sort of investment my first goal is to profit within the first month. My main goal in this guide is to make sure that you can profit in the first month and then grow the profits as you learn on the go (while you earn).

This isn't an intensive process, it's a GET UP AND GO!

My Binary Profits

Here is a monthly break down of my earnings showing how many trades I take and the profit I gained from those.

Starting deposit: $1000

Risk per trade: $25

1. January: 13 Trades placed. +$362.50.
2. February: 21 Trades placed. +$531.25
3. March: 12 Trades placed. +$525.00
4. April: 24 Trades placed. +$637.50
5. May: 9 Trades placed. +$218.75
6. June: 17 Trades placed. +$418.75
7. July: 21 Trades placed. +$918.75
8. August: 16 Trades placed. +$355.00
9. September: 14 Trades placed. +$437.50

Total: $5405

I will add new months as the results come in.

My main focus recently are hourly signals, I'm really starting to get a feel for these. For this test I wanted to start with a small deposit, risk a minimal amount of funds and double my deposit every couple months to show my readers that this is plausible.

When I started I never expected results this great, but I am very happy with the winning percentage, and the very fact that I have not had a losing month this year.

So How is This All Possible?

Well as a BinaryToday.com reader you have probably come across a few of my reviews and likely found them to be scathing. I find a lot of bad products in this market and I call it how I see it.

There are however some systems in this market that I am currently testing and using that help me profit daily.

For this test I only used one binary software and one binary broker. It is just a 2 step process.

Step 1. The Broker I Trust

I've certainly gone through a handful of brokers but for this test I wanted to make sure the broker I used was compatible with the binary options software. Here are the important specifications:

Minimum deposit: $300

Payouts: 80%

Assets and Times: All that are required

Using this broker I have managed to take my $1000 deposit and turn it into over $5000. I have done withdrawals every month and received all of my funds quickly.

Signing up is simple and is an easy process to start the journey.

Taking The Plunge

Over the years I have helped countless friends and family get invested in binary options. This year I've been signing them up to brokers and getting them connected with the right binary options signal providers to get earning quickly.

It's all about making the right decisions and not holding yourself back.

From now on I can just give this guide to my friends and have them follow this step by step.

Let me get into the fun part now, the software I used in this test.

Step 2. The Binary Options Bullet

The software I used for this project is none other than the Binary Options Bullet.

What I love about this system is it's simplicity. There is actually a video that shows exactly how it works. I suggest watching this short video:

You can receive signals via email on your phone and place trades whenever is convenient to you and each signal comes with a potential winning %.

This software is updated regularly for free and is only a one time fee of $67.99 with no extra charges or fees.

Final Thoughts

I hope that this guide is the first step in long and successful foray in binary options trading. The binary options bullet and citrades method is one that I have had success with and I plan on providing more winning methods in the future.
